Bull's Eye Apollo 10 Splashdown

ABOARD USS PRINCETON (AP)— Climaxing a voyage of discovery, the Apollo 10 moon explorers came safely home from the heavens today, blazing back through earth's atmosphere to a bull's eye landing in the South Pacific within sight of the recovery ship Princeton.

America's newest space heroes ended man's greatest and most dangerous space adventure when their sturdy six-ton spaceship parachuted into gently rolling seas about three miles from the Princeton.

Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan landed at 12:52 p.m., EDT. The touchdown was about 400 miles east of Pago Pago, just at dawn in this part of the world.

As the craft descended, its tracking lights blinked in the semidarkness.

The pinpoint landing was a fitting climax to the near-flawless eight-day flight, a final dress rehearsal which cleared the way for two astronauts to walk on the moon in less than two months.

"We are in great shape," Stafford radioed.

"We should be right on top of you if you're down there," Stafford radioed minutes before landing.

"I tell you this thing is beautiful," Young exulted.

Television pictures, relayed through a communications satellite, enabled millions of Americans to share the triumphal return of the three astronauts.

Viewers had a ringside seat as cameras focused on Apollo 10 flating down from space, dangling under three orange and white parachutes.

Hundreds of sailors wearing dress white lined the deck of the Princeton and cheered as they watched the stirring sight.

Helicopters spotted the astronauts several minutes before the splashdown and were hovering overhead within minutes.

Within minutes, Navy frogmen leaped from a helicopter. They attached a flotation collar and plugged in a telephone to talk with the astronauts.

Stafford, Young and Cernan traveled 76 hours outward to the moon, circled it 31 times in 61-1/2 hours and raced home along a 54-hour corridor. The flight lasted 8 days 3 minutes.

They logged about 700,000 miles and Stafford and Cernan made man's closest approach to another celestial body, riding a lunar landing vehicle to within 9.4 miles of the moon to scout a landing site for Apollo 11 in July. They rehearsed all phases of a landing mission except the actual touchdown.

Five hours before homecoming, they beamed a final telecast, showing the fast-approaching earth in brilliant color and transmitting their thoughts on their magnificent Odyssey. Stafford summed up the feelings this way:

"I think the future of manned space flight from now and many generations to come is going to uncover many, many other challenges and experiences that we are really incapable of even

New U.S. Offensives Launched In Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Command today announced two new American offensives in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces and said they were aimed at "capturing or destroying enemy forces, material and installations."

The two new drives have accounted for 142 North Vietnamese soldiers killed since they began, one 18 days ago, the other 11 days ago, U.S. Headquarters said. U.S. casualties were put at 28 killed and 134 wounded.

The command said announcement of the operations were withheld for security reasons.

One of the offensives, Operation Lamar Plain, was launched May 16 by hundreds of paratroopers from the U.S. 101st Airborne Division in jungled foothills 45 miles south of Da Nang. It is aimed at taking pressure off the important provincial capital of Tam Ky, around which there has been heavy fighting in recent weeks. The U. S. Command said 113 North Vietnamese and 36 paratroopers have been killed, and 102 paratroopers wounded.

In the second drive, about 1,000 U.S. Marines from the 3rd Division are checking an area north-northeast of the abandoned combat base of Khe Sanh about 18 miles east of Laotian border and 10 miles below the Demilitarized Zone.

Dubbed Operation Herkimer Mountain, it has produced little significant results since it was launched May 9. The U.S. Command reported 29 North Vietnamese killed and said U.S. casualties have been two killed and 32 wounded.

The U.S. Command also reported 26 enemy rocket and mortar attacks Sunday night but said only 10 caused casualties or damage and these were light. The Command also reported two more American helicopters shot down, with seven Americans wounded. This raised to 2,678 the number of American helicopters reported lost in the war.

Allied sources reported today that casualties in the war last week included about 300 Americans, 413 South Vietnamese and 4,000 of the enemy, according to preliminary reports.

As the controversy in the United States over American casualties continued, the U.S. Command in Saigon announced that more than 40 of the enemy were killed for every allied soldier during a 24-hour period of the weekend. But battlefield reports gave a ratio Saturday and Sunday of 24 to one, with 436 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, 12 Americans and six South Vietnamese killed. Another 105 Americans and 16 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Defense Secretary Speaks Out For U.S. Tactics In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has spoken out in support of U. S. battlefield tactics in Vietnam, which Democratic critics say cause needless loss of American lives.

"It's always been our goal to keep the maximum pressure on the enemy consistent with the lowest possible casualties," Laird said Sunday, adding that U. S. commanders continue under instructions to carry out this policy.

Laird, a Republican congressman from Wisconsin before President Nixon appointed him defense chief, outlined his view in an interview before he boarded his airplane for a week-long North Atlantic Treaty Organization planning conference in Brussels and London.

Battlefield tactics have come under mounting criticism from Democratic leaders since the 10-day battle in which GIs drove North Vietnamese off Dong Ap Bia Mountain 'n 11 assaults that cost some 50 American lives.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., called the battle "senseless and irresponsible" in a Senate speech last week and his stand was supported over the weekend by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S. D.

Four Weekend Wrecks Result In Minor Injuries To Three Persons

By JIM KERKHOFF

Three persons received minor injuries in four separate accidents over the weekend, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Dellene Rose Zoellmer, 27, Redding, was westbound on State Route 36, 30 miles east of Red Bluff driving a 1966 Mustang at 8:15 p.m. Saturday. She apparently went into a curve too fast, lost control of the car and it overturned. The driver was cited for failure to keep the vehicle under control while driving on a mountain roadway.

Two Gerber men were involved in an accident on old State Route 99W, south of Sierra Vista Ave., at 11:05 a.m. Saturday. Michael Lewis Osborn, 18, was northbound driving a 1967 Dodge and Ray Cunningham, 65, was northbound driving a 1951 GMC pickup vehicle.

Cunningham was preparing to turn left into his driveway when Osborn passed another vehicle and attempted to pass Cunningham's car. Osborn didn't see that Cunningham was signaling for a left turn. The vehicles collided as Osborn's car had a rear end sideswipe with the other vehicle. There was moderate damage to Cunningham's car and minor damage to the other vehicle. There were no injuries. Osborn was cited for failure to pass safely to the left and Cunningham was cited for making an unsafe turn, according to the patrol report.

Police Investigating Theft Of Clothing, Household Items

The theft of numerous clothing items, wigs and household goods is being investigated today by Red Bluff Police officers.

If Anyone Deserves A Medal, He Does

By SUSAN FERGUSON

If anyone deserves a medal, it's Red Bluff policeman Dave Ross.

Such is the feeling of a young Red Bluff woman whose five-year-old son nearly died Friday evening. He's alive today, she said, because of the determined efforts of Ross, a quiet mannered man who would probably be embarrassed by any honors for what he did.

The woman, Linda Terrell, said her little boy had fallen into Whiskeytown Lake and to all appearances was dead when Ross revived him. In fact, she said another man had tried to give the boy mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and declared after a few minutes "it's too late."

As described by Mrs. Terrell the near tragedy occurred at the end of a day of canoeing by herself, her two children and her friends, Officer Ross and his wife, Sarah.

The group had left the water, carried the canoe to the car, and removed life jackets from the children in preparation to leaving. It was while the adults were tying the canoe to the top of their car that Mrs. Terrell noticed David was missing.

She called for the child and another woman said she had seen a little boy "jump" off the end of a nearby dock. Mrs. Terrell and Ross ran to the dock where they found little David floating face down in the water. Ross leaped in the water and handed the limp boy up to his mother.

It was then, Mrs. Terrell said, that a man she didn't know attempted to revive the boy. Mrs. Ross and another woman had taken Mrs. Terrell off the dock by that time but she was able to see that Ross, by now out of the water, was determined to do all he could to bring life back to the unconscious child.

"Dave turned him over and started pumping the water out of him" she said. "As soon as he heard the first sigh from David he called out to me that he'd be all right."

Ross had told someone to get an ambulance, Mrs. Terrell said, but he then said they could cancel that call. In the meantime a park ranger ran to the scene with a tank of oxygen. Ross carried the little boy to the car and, with the ranger staying near, took the boy to a Redding hospital where he recovered fully.

"I just can't express my feelings for what he did," Mrs. Terrell said of the police officer. "If anyone deserves a medal Dave Ross does."

Fire Season Is Now Forestry Man Declares

Northern California's fire season has begun.

Official designation of the danger time came today from State Forester Francis H. Raymond. He pointed out that potential fire conflagration facing California this year "is one of the greatest we have had in recent years."

Raymond explained that above normal rainfall has caused an abundance of flammable growth throughout all parts of California. As the fire season progresses, he said, the situation will become increasingly hazardous.

Lookout stations and firefighting crews in Glenn and Tehama Counties are being activated as quickly as possible, according to Bob Kerstiens, associate ranger at the Red Bluff unit, California Division of Forestry. Kerstiens said that in addition to five county contract truck stations that are manned year round, the division will activate eight fire suppression stations and six lookouts.

The local unit peaks at 150 personnel during the fire season, he said.

Kerstiens noted that most wild fires are man-caused, generally by carelessness. He urges local citizens to be particularly careful with burning, smoking, and other activities when visiting or using wild land areas.

No Open Burning In Town, Chief Says

The 1969 fire season officially opened in Red Bluff today with a word of warning being issued by Fire Chief Tom Gauthier.

Gauthier said this morning that no open burning is allowed without special permission from the fire department. Closed incinerator burning is still permissible.

Cowtown, USA, Image Dropped-For Awhile

By LEE PETERS

Red Bluff temporarily shelved its image of Cowtown, USA, this weekend with presentations of three various stage events.

First of the trio was Saturday night at Red Bluff Union High School Gym when the American Association of University Women presented the French Gulch Players in the revue, "Stitches and Sketches" which included a fashion show of Carlton-Barkhurst original designs.

Folk singing by the Cunninghams and songs by Alice Scarborough were well received by the audience. James Thurber's "Unicorn in the Garden," a skit enacted very well by Muriel Dusel and Robert Williamson was an outstanding hit.

Other acts included a satire on restoration comedy, a reading by Miss Dusel of a story by Roald Dahl of "Mrs. Bixby and the Colonel," and an amusing skit with Miss Dusel and Williamson portraying an elderly couple who reminesce about their former marriages and dodderingly confuse the various events with their various respective spouses.

Sunday afternoon a good-sized audience saw the ballet, "The Wedding of the Fly and Bumble Bee," presented by the Red Bluff School of Dance at Red Bluff High School gym. The choreography gave all the chance to perform, from the youngest children as butterflies to the more advanced students in the roles of the forest fairies.

Hours of practice and hard work were in evidence. A touch of professionalism was added with the appearance of Margaret Dukleth dancing on point. The program was preceded with a divertissement by the guest appearance of members of the Shasta Civic Ballet Company.

A repeat performance of "The Mikado" Sunday evening by Mercy High School Students drew another good-sized audience which equalled in enthusiasm the first audience. The performers were again so outstanding, for a high school production, that numerous curtain calls required an encore from the ensemble.

If Anyone Deserves A Medal, He Does

"Dave turned him over and started pumping the water out of him" she said. "As soon as he heard the first sigh from David he called out to me that he'd be all right."

Ross had told someone to get an ambulance, Mrs. Terrell said, but he then said they could cancel that call. In the meantime a park ranger ran to the scene with a tank of oxygen. Ross carried the little boy to the car and, with the ranger staying near, took the boy to a Redding hospital where he recovered fully.

"I just can't express my feelings for what he did," Mrs. Terrell said of the police officer. "If anyone deserves a medal Dave Ross does."

Cowtown, USA, Image Dropped-For Awhile

By LEE PETERS

Red Bluff temporarily shelved its image of Cowtown, USA, this weekend with presentations of three various stage events.

First of the trio was Saturday night at Red Bluff Union High School Gym when the American Association of University Women presented the French Gulch Players in the revue, "Stitches and Sketches" which included a fashion show of Carlton-Barkhurst original designs.

Folk singing by the Cunninghams and songs by Alice Scarborough were well received by the audience. James Thurber's "Unicorn in the Garden," a skit enacted very well by Muriel Dusel and Robert Williamson was an outstanding hit.

Other acts included a satire on restoration comedy, a reading by Miss Dusel of a story by Roald Dahl of "Mrs. Bixby and the Colonel," and an amusing skit with Miss Dusel and Williamson portraying an elderly couple who reminesce about their former marriages and dodderingly confuse the various events with their various respective spouses.

Sunday afternoon a good-sized audience saw the ballet, "The Wedding of the Fly and Bumble Bee," presented by the Red Bluff School of Dance at Red Bluff High School gym. The choreography gave all the chance to perform, from the youngest children as butterflies to the more advanced students in the roles of the forest fairies.

Hours of practice and hard work were in evidence. A touch of professionalism was added with the appearance of Margaret Dukleth dancing on point. The program was preceded with a divertissement by the guest appearance of members of the Shasta Civic Ballet Company.

A repeat performance of "The Mikado" Sunday evening by Mercy High School Students drew another good-sized audience which equalled in enthusiasm the first audience. The performers were again so outstanding, for a high school production, that numerous curtain calls required an encore from the ensemble.

Health Tip OF THE WEEK

To prevent falls from dizziness, older people should sit a moment on the bed before rising — and stand still a moment after coming to their feet. This permits the body to adjust its sense of balance, and the eyes to focus properly, before walking.

Schools Want State Budget Excess

By BILL STALL

SACRAMENTO (AP)— The Legislature's fiscal expert estimated today the state will have a budget surplus of about $140 million in the coming year — money in demand by local school districts which want more state help.

Legislative analyst A. Alan Post said his latest estimate is that the state's ledgers on June 30, the end of the current fiscal year, will be about the same as Gov. Reagan's experts forecast earlier in the year.

The Reagan administration planned to issue its new forecasts today — giving an indication of how much will be available for extra spending, such as for schools.

Meanwhile, lawmakers returned to the Assembly and Senate chambers for the 20th week of the 1969 session. The Assembly is scheduled to open debate on the Reagan administration's $6.23 billion budget Tuesday, but Democrats have threatened to block passage until it is cut by nearly $86 million.

The Democrats are proposing to use the budget cut demand as a bargaining tool for a greater hand in writing whatever tax reform measure comes out of the legislature this year, and for more school aid.

Reagan set aside $109 million in the new budget for additional state aid to schools in the coming year, but many legislators — Republicans and Democrats — say this isn't enough.

Of the projected $140 million surplus, Reagan wants to use $100 million of it for a one-time-only 10 per cent income tax rebate which would go to taxpayers when they fill out their tax forms in April 1970. The other $40 million would be left over to the following year.

Last week, the Republican chairman of the Assembly Education Committee said he hopes to virtually double Reagan's school aid boost.

"I don't consider that is adequate, or necessarily the final sum," chairman Victor Veysey said.

There is increasing demand by school districts around the state for more help from the state government. Reagan's new budget calls for $1.6 billion in state aid compared with about $1.3 billion this year. The districts must rely on property taxes for the bulk of their income.

Post said school spending this year ran about $32 million more than expected. But taxes and other sources brought in more revenue than originally forecast. The two about balanced out to the $140 million surplus Reagan expected, he said.

The Finance Department has been accused in the past of underestimating revenue or overestimating spending when it makes out the budget. That way, the outlook suddenly is brighter when the May revisions are announced, critics have said.

The May estimates are critical to legislators as they put the budget in final form and consider tax programs.

Bob Benefield Triumphs In Chico Super Main Event

By Zoann McCain

CHICO — "White Lightning" struck again at Chico's Silver Dollar Speedway, as Red Bluff's Bob Benefield took another lightning-like victory in the super main Friday. Benefield's second point main win, put only one point behind Bob Guthrie in the top spot.

Benefield led the dash action for three laps and three turns, but as he came into the home chute, Guthrie managed to get a wheel in the low groove. They shot down the straight, in a wheel-to-wheel charge, with Guthrie taking a win-by-a-radiator-cap over Benefield.

Benefield and Guthrie held another swift-paced, place-swap in the fast heat, again on the last turn of the last lap. Benefield avoided a spin, Guthrie went low to pull the edge for a second behind Butch Ritcheson. The slow heat win went to Don Porter, followed by Marv Killingsworth. In the two-car challenge race, Porter took the win over challenger Guthrie.

The main started a 13-car field of supers, on a super-track. On the 6th lap, the red stopped all action when Jimmy Boyd took a high, hard series of flips off the south end. (Boyd is hospitalized at Enloe Hospital, with plans to move him to Redding for additional hospitalization, sometime this week. Doctors report his condition as fair to good.)

When action resumed, Don Porter took the lead. Benefield lost no time making his way into second behind Porter, with Nick Porter hot on his heels in third. Following a 14th lap caution, Benefield fought it out with Porter for three-quarters of a lap, to make it past in the south turn. Taking the checkered ten laps later, Benefield held a commanding lead over Don Porter, Bob Guthrie, Sac's Johnny Anderson and Ira Compton.

In stocks, the Cottonwood Charger, "Pappy" Boyd took the trophy win, then settled for second behind Bruce Kusi in the fast heat. "Pappy" made up for his heat finish by taking over from Kusi in the main, on Lap 11, following a side-by-side run for almost a full lap. At the checkered, Boyd took his third point main followed by Bill Finnegan, Bruce Kusi, Charlie Newquist and Rich Carrel. Finnegan also won the slow heat.

Al Coenen took a sweep-win night in the modified division. He took home the hardware, won the fast heat, and completed his night with victory in the main. Coenen took his second point main win followed by Phil Corcoran, Bob Krajirik, Ron Simmons and Norm Guertner. Mickey Hubbard won the slow heat over Mike Lighter.

Sunday night winners at the Silver Dollar Speedway followed Friday's pattern in stocks modified division. 'Pappy' Boyd took the trophy and 25-lap main for stocks. Coenen in modified did the same.

Supers were visited by Sacramento's Johnny Anderson, who took the 25-lap main as well as the slow heat. Nick Porter took home the hardware in the fast heat. Benefield turned in his share of competition for the night's purse, the mechanical problems cut off his run for the checkered midway through the race.

Racing resumes at Chico Friday night and Anderson Saturday night. Gates open at 6 p.m.

Mike Fink Inks With Huskies

Mike Fink, about the biggest thing to ever come out of the Redding area and terror of the Northern Althletic League for the three seasons, has signed a letter of-intent with the University of Washington Huskies in Seattle.

Fink, who will no doubt add the 'oomph' coach Tex Winter needs to make a bid for next year's NCAA basketball title, signed the letter-of-intent in Redding Friday. He had been approached by more than 100 schools including UCLA, USC and Cal.

Fink will be given board and room at Washington, and will be given tuition fees and allowed to work 175 hours for icidentals.

The gigantic 6' 10" Central Valley center led the NAL in scoring for the past three years, and led the league in rebounds with a 29.6 point average.

Lee Roy Yarbrough Wins World 600 Eying Indy 500

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Lee Roy Yarbrough, currently the hottest thing in stock car racing, was back in Indianapolis today ready to show his driving talents in the Memorial Day 500 race Friday.

Yarbrough, a 30-year-old Mercury team driver, won the World 600 miler for Grand National cars at Charlotte Motor Speedway Sunday, adding $30,000 to his earnings for the season. Then he headed by plane for Indianapolis.

The handsome, dark-haired Yarbrough has been jetting back and forth between the two cities for a week, taking part in paractice sessions. He will start a turbo-charged Eagle Ford in the third row of the Memorial Day field.

"It would be nice to win the 500," Yarbrough said, "and I'm going to try. But the race involves highly exotic machinery, and this is only my second start there. A race driver, however, always races to win."

Lonborg, McLain Still Have Stuff

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Lonborg can't hurry and Denny McLain won't wait, but neither one has forgotten which way to go.

Lonborg, the American League's 1967 Cy Young Award winner, and McLain, his successor last year, pitched seven scoreless innings apiece Sunday as Boston nipped Chicago 1-0 and Detroit trampled California 10-0.

Lonborg, plagued by recurring shoulder trouble that has kept him from pitching a complete game this spring, scattered four hits before Vicente Romo put the wraps on the Red Sox' first shutout in 40 starts.

"I was tempted to try the full nine, but I'm glad it worked out this way," said Lonborg, 3-0, who will attempt to go the distance in his next start. "My shoulder really stiffened up after I left. You just can't do it all in one day."

McLain, who pitched six innings last Thursday in a 7-3 loss to Chicago, bounced back with two days' rest and blanked the hapless Angels on two hits to earn his seventh victory in 11 decisions with mop-up help from John Hiller.

He also won his seventh a year ago on May 25 — and went on to an amazing 31-6 finish.

"I never ask a guy to pitch with two days rest," said Tigers Manager MayoSmith, "but Denny came to me and wanted to pitch. Pitchers like him need a lot of work.

"Besides, he's having a tooth extracted Monday and it'd be worse if he pitched Tuesday."

McLain has pitched 100 innings, tops in the majors, in 13 games — compared to 22 innings in four appearances for Lonborg.

Despite the Red Sox' fifth victory in six games and the Tigers' sixth in seven, neither could pick up ground on Baltimore's torrid East Division leaders, who shaded Oakland 5-3 on Don Buford's two-run eighth inning double and extended their winning streak to five.

The loss, coupled with Minnesota's 2-1, 3-2 doubleheader sweep at New York, dropped Oakland at 1-1/2 games behind the pace-setting Twins in the West. Elsewhere, Kansas City edged slumping Washington 3-2 in 12 innings and Seattle beat Cleveland 3-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh downed San Francisco twice, 2-1 and 6-2; the Chicago Cubs split a twin bill with San Diego, bowing 10-2 before winning 1-0; Atlanta trimmed Philadelphia 4-1; Cincinnati drubbed Montreal 7-3; St. Louis blanked Los Angeles 4-0 and Houston dropped the New York Mets 6-3.

George Scott's fifth inning homer — the first of only two hits off southpaw Tommy John — carried Lonborg and the Red Sox past the White Sox.

After Losing Six Straight, Oakland Needs Day Of Rest

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics have today off, and they need it after losing six straight games and the lead of the American League Western Division.

"We're not scoring any runs," lamented Oakland Manager Hank Bauer after a 5-3 loss at Baltimore.

Before Sunday's game, the A's had lost five straight by one run. Now they rest in second place in the Western Division behind Minnesota.

As for Baltimore, which has won 10 of its last 11 games and leads the Eastern Division, Bauer said, "If the Orioles stay healthy, they have a great chance to win the pennant. They're solid all the way through."

Oakland opens a six-game home stand Tuesday night against Detroit.

In Sunday's contest, Oriole Don Buford belted a bases-loaded double in the eighth inning to drive in two runs and break a 3-3 tie.

Benvenuti Favored Over Tiger In Non Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) —Nino Benvenuti, the world middle weight champion, was rated a 2-1 favorite to whip 39-year-old Dick Tiger of Biafra in a nontitle 10-round fight tonight that could earn the winner a shot at Bob Foster's light heavyweight title.

Tiger, the former middleweight and light heavyweight king who lost the 175-pound division crown to Foster on a fourth-round knockout, is very anxious to get a return crack at the only man to knock him out.

Benvenuti, 31, handsome and rich, and doubling as a gun slinger in European-made western movies, has expressed interest in moving up against Foster and for a possible purse of $150,000 to $200,000.

But he may not be as enthusiastic now after watching the towering, hard-hitting Foster demolish rugged, cement-jawed Andy Kendall in the fourth round of a televised title fight at West Springfield, Mass., Saturday afternoon.

Kendall, the No. 1 light heavyweight contender from Portland, Ore., never had been floored until the 6-foot-3-1/2 Foster dropped him and stopped him with a deluge of powerful punches in 1:15 of the fourth.

Farm Team Raniers Defeat Mounties In Little League Action

One game was reported played Saturday in the Red Bluff Little League.

The Raniers defeated the Mounties, 7-4, in a Farm League contest. Rick McConel and Greg Wright hurled for the winners. Ron Liddell and Dennis Delfs pitched for the losers.

Ron Liddell was the top hitter in the game with a double and triple.

The Raniers scored four runs in the first inning, two in the second and one in the fourth.

Oyler On All-Star Team

Los Molinos Bulldog baseball star added another feather in his cap this week as he was named a utility player on the All Northern Valley League baseball team.

Oyler, who started for the Bulldogs and turned in an impressive season was the only Los Molinos player to be honored. He was one of 14 players selected to the all-star team.

Ed Wells of Maxwell was voted the player of the year and his coach Jim Lemos was honored as the coach of the year.

Other players selected were Ray Killian, Williams; Ed Wells, Maxwell; Jim Berlin, Maxwell; Dale Johnson, Elk Creek; Dave Wells, Maxwell; Lynn Pereira, Williams; Fred Wycoff, Hayfork; Bob Perry, Princeton; Dennis Waggoner, Hayfork; Bob Romero, Williams; John Alba, Princeton; Kevin Dennis, Maxwell, and Matt George, Hayfork.

Yancey Can Quit Worrying

ATLANTA (AP) —Bert Yancey can quit worrying about faltering under pressure on the pro golf tour.

He doesn't have to worry much about paying his bills, either.

Yancy never wavered Sunday in the pressure-packed finish of the Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament, sinking three clutch putts that gave him a $23,000 paycheck.

The former West Point cadet, who suffered a nervous breakdown at the academy, rammed home a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole of the final round to tie Australia's Bruce Devlin.

Yancey rolled in another 10-footer for a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff, with Devlin knocking in a six-footer.

Then Yancey closed out the battle on the second extra hole with a seven-footer for a birdie that he said left him "feeling like a millionaire."

Yancey said before the start of the final round that he has been playing well recently except at the finish, when the pressure got to him.

"But I think I've gotten tough enough inside now to win it," he said.

The 30-year-old Floridian said after the frantic finish that he had eased the pressure by forgetting about his rival.

"I don't look back any more like I used to," he said. "I don't watch the scoreboards to see how anyons else is doing.

"I've quit worrying about the other players, and I concentrate on what I'm doing.

Carlos Outstanding At Relays

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)— John Carlos continues to outclass the current available sprint crop and his best could be yet to come.

The fleet San Jose State star won honors Saturday as the outstanding athlete at the California Relays when he won the 100-meter and 220-yard dashes and anchored the victorious 440-yard relay team.

Those honors as the best in the meeting come on almost a weekly basis for the controversial Olympian. In the West Coast Relays he equalled the world record for the 100-yard dash at 9.1 seconds. He says he wants to break nine flat.

At Modesto, when Charlie Greene and Lennox Miller pulled out, Carlos won the 100-meter race in 10.1 seconds, two-tenths off the world mark yet he seemed to be almost eased up during the latter stages. He won the 220 in 20.4 and the relay team posted a creditable 39.7.

San Jose was forced out of the half-mile relay when Ronnie Ray Smith suffered a strained muscle in an earlier race. Houston's Striders took the 880 relay in 1:23.8.

Carlos runs next in the Kennedy Memorial Games at Berkeley on Saturday and again puts the 100-yard record in jeopardy.

Gusty winds hampered the runners in the California Relays and the only three meet records came in field events. Finland's Jorma Kinnunen, the Olympic silver medalist, threw the javelin 270 feet 11 inches, Neil Steinhauer put the shot 66-5-1/2 and Otis Burrell cleared the high jump at 7-1-3/4.

Mickey Wright Wins Bluegrass

PROSPECT, Ky. (SP) — The $2,325 Mickey Wright picked up by winning the Bluegrass Invitational Golf Tournament isn't much compared to the $250,000 she has won the past 11 years.

But the victory, her first in nine starts this year, should indicate to the other women pros that the veteran from Dallas is back on her game and is a definite threat in the upcoming tournaments.

Miss Wright nipped Betsy Rawls of Spartansburg, S.C., in a sudden death playoff in the Ladies' Professional Golf Association event Sunday when she rolled in a three-foot putt for a par on the first extra hole.

Bob Benefield Triumphs In Chico Super Main Event

By Zoann McCain

CHICO — "White Lightning" struck again at Chico's Silver Dollar Speedway, as Red Bluff's Bob Benefield took another lightning-like victory in the super main Friday. Benefield's second point main win, put only one point behind Bob Guthrie in the top spot.

Benefield led the dash action for three laps and three turns, but as he came into the home chute, Guthrie managed to get a wheel in the low groove. They shot down the straight, in a wheel-to-wheel charge, with Guthrie taking a win-by-a-radiator-cap over Benefield.

Benefield and Guthrie held another swift-paced, place-swap in the fast heat, again on the last turn of the last lap. Benefield avoided a spin, Guthrie went low to pull the edge for a second behind Butch Ritcheson. The slow heat win went to Don Porter, followed by Marv Killingsworth. In the two-car challenge race, Porter took the win over challenger Guthrie.

The main started a 13-car field of supers, on a super-track. On the 6th lap, the red stopped all action when Jimmy Boyd took a high, hard series of flips off the south end. (Boyd is hospitalized at Enloe Hospital, with plans to move him to Redding for additional hospitalization, sometime this week. Doctors report his condition as fair to good.)

When action resumed, Don Porter took the lead. Benefield lost no time making his way into second behind Porter, with Nick Porter hot on his heels in third. Following a 14th lap caution, Benefield fought it out with Porter for three-quarters of a lap, to make it past in the south turn. Taking the checkered ten laps later, Benefield held a commanding lead over Don Porter, Bob Guthrie, Sac's Johnny Anderson and Ira Compton.

In stocks, the Cottonwood Charger, "Pappy" Boyd took the trophy win, then settled for second behind Bruce Kusi in the fast heat. "Pappy" made up for his heat finish by taking over from Kusi in the main, on Lap 11, following a side-by-side-run for almost a full lap. At the checkered, Boyd took his third point main followed by Bill Finnegan, Bruce Kusi, Charlie Newquist and Rich Carrel. Finnegan also won the slow heat.

Al Coenen took a sweep-win night in the modified division. He took home the hardware, won the fast heat, and completed his night with victory in the main. Coenen took his second point main win followed by Phil Corcoran, Bob Krajirik, Ron Simmons and Norm Guertner. Mickey Hubbard won the slow heat over Mike Lighter.

Sunday night winners at the Silver Dollar Speedway followed Friday's pattern in stocks modified division. 'Pappy' Boyd took the trophy and 25-lap main for stocks. Coenen in modified did the same.

Supers were visited by Sacramento's Johnny Anderson, who took the 25-lap main as well as the slow heat. Nick Porter took home the hardware in the fast heat. Benefield turned in his share of competition for the night's purse, the mechanical problems cut off his run for the checkered midway through the race.

Racing resumes at Chico Friday night and Anderson Saturday night. Gates open at 6 p.m.

After Losing Six Straight, Oakland Needs Day Of Rest

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics have today off, and they need it after losing six straight games and the lead of the American League Western Division.

"We're not scoring any runs," lamented Oakland Manager Hank Bauer after a 5-3 loss at Baltimore.

Before Sunday's game, the A's had lost five straight by one run. Now they rest in second place in the Western Division behind Minnesota.

As for Baltimore, which has won 10 of its last 11 games and leads the Eastern Division, Bauer said, "If the Orioles stay healthy, they have a great chance to win the pennant. They're solid all the way through."

Oakland opens a six-game home stand Tuesday night against Detroit.

In Sunday's contest, Oriole Don Buford belted a bases-loaded double in the eighth inning to drive in two runs and break a 3-3 tie.

Benvenuti Favored Over Tiger In Non Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) —Nino Benvenuti, the world middle weight champion, was rated a 2-1 favorite to whip 39-year-old Dick Tiger of Biafra in a nontitle 10-round fight tonight that could earn the winner a shot at Bob Foster's light heavyweight title.

Tiger, the former middleweight and light heavyweight king who lost the 175-pound division crown to Foster on a fourth-round knockout, is very anxious to get a return crack at the only man to knock him out.

Benvenuti, 31, handsome and rich, and doubling as a gun slinger in European-made western movies, has expressed interest in moving up against Foster and for a possible purse of $150,000 to $200,000.

But he may not be as enthusiastic now after watching the towering, hard-hitting Foster demolish rugged, cement-jawed Andy Kendall in the fourth round of a televised title fight at West Springfield, Mass., Saturday afternoon.

Kendall, the No. 1 light heavyweight contender from Portland, Ore., never had been floored until the 6-foot-3-1/2 Foster dropped him and stopped him with a deluge of powerful punches in 1:15 of the fourth.

Farm Team Raniers Defeat Mounties In Little League Action

One game was reported played Saturday in the Red Bluff Little League.

The Raniers defeated the Mounties, 7-4, in a Farm League contest. Rick McConel and Greg Wright hurled for the winners. Ron Liddell and Dennis Delfs pitched for the losers.

Ron Liddell was the top hitter in the game with a double and triple.

The Raniers scored four runs in the first inning, two in the second and one in the fourth.

Oyler On All-Star Team

Los Molinos Bulldog baseball star added another feather in his cap this week as he was named a utility player on the All Northern Valley League baseball team.

Oyler, who started for the Bulldogs and turned in an impressive season was the only Los Molinos player to be honored. He was one of 14 players selected to the all-star team.

Ed Wells of Maxwell was voted the player of the year and his coach Jim Lemos was honored as the coach of the year.

Other players selected were Ray Killian, Williams; Ed Wells, Maxwell; Jim Berlin, Maxwell; Dale Johnson, Elk Creek; Dave Wells, Maxwell; Lynn Pereira, Williams; Fred Wycoff, Hayfork; Bob Perry, Princeton; Dennis Waggoner, Hayfork; Bob Romero, Williams; John Alba, Princeton; Kevin Dennis, Maxwell, and Matt George, Hayfork.

Yancey Can Quit Worrying

ATLANTA (AP) —Bert Yancey can quit worrying about faltering under pressure on the pro golf tour.

He doesn't have to worry much about paying his bills, either.

Yancy never wavered Sunday in the pressure-packed finish of the Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament, sinking three clutch putts that gave him a $23,000 paycheck.

The former West Point cadet, who suffered a nervous breakdown at the academy, rammed home a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole of the final round to tie Australia's Bruce Devlin.

Yancey rolled in another 10-footer for a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff, with Devlin knocking in a six-footer.

Then Yancey closed out the battle on the second extra hole with a seven-footer for a birdie that he said left him "feeling like a millionaire."

Yancey said before the start of the final round that he has been playing well recently except at the finish, when the pressure got to him.

"But I think I've gotten tough enough inside now to win it," he said.

The 30-year-old Floridian said after the frantic finish that he had eased the pressure by forgetting about his rival.

"I don't look back any more like I used to," he said. "I don't watch the scoreboards to see how anyone else is doing.

"I've quit worrying about the other players, and I concentrate on what I'm doing.

Carlos Outstanding At Relays

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—John Carlos continues to outclass the current available sprint crop and his best could be yet to come.

The fleet San Jose State star won honors Saturday as the outstanding athlete at the California Relays when he won the 100-meter and 220-yard dashes and anchored the victorious 440-yard relay team.

Those honors as the best in the meeting come on almost a weekly basis for the controversial Olympian. In the West Coast Relays he equalled the world record for the 100-yard dash at 9.1 seconds. He says he wants to break nine flat.

At Modesto, when Charlie Greene and Lennox Miller pulled out, Carlos won the 100-meter race in 10.1 seconds, two-tenths off the world mark yet he seemed to be almost eased up during the latter stages. He won the 220 in 20.4 and the relay team posted a creditable 39.7.

San Jose was forced out of the half-mile relay when Ronnie Ray Smith suffered a strained muscle in an earlier race. Houston's Striders took the 880 relay in 1:23.8.

Carlos runs next in the Kennedy Memorial Games at Berkeley on Saturday and again puts the 100-yard record in jeopardy.

Gusty winds hampered the runners in the California Relays and the only three meet records came in field events. Finland's Jorma Kinnunen, the Olympic silver medalist, threw the javelin 270 feet 11 inches, Neil Steinhauer put the shot 66-5-1/2 and Otis Burrell cleared the high jump at 7-1-3/4.

Mickey Wright Wins Bluegrass

PROSPECT, Ky. (SP) — The $2,325 Mickey Wright picked up by winning the Bluegrass Invitational Golf Tournament isn't much compared to the $250,000 she has won the past 11 years.

But the victory, her first in nine starts this year, should indicate to the other women pros that the veteran from Dallas is back on her game and is a definite threat in the upcoming tournaments.

Miss Wright nipped Betsy Rawls of Spartansburg, S.C., in a sudden death playoff in the Ladies' Professional Golf Association event Sunday when she rolled in a three-foot putt for a par on the first extra hole.

California Chamber Wants Realignment Of School Support

The California State Chamber of Commerce, by formal action of its Board of Directors taken at the meeting held in San Francisco Friday, May 16, has called for a realignment of the support pattern of public school education which would take the burden off the local property tax payer and increase the state's participation.

Charles F. Horne, Chairman of the Chamber's Statewide Education Committee pointed out that since 1952 when the electorate approved a Constitutional Amendment to increase school aid, and as a result contributed 47.5 per cent against 49.1 per cent from local property taxes, the amount of state support has steadily decreased. During the current year the state's share will be below 36 per cent. This in spite of the fact that education is legally a state function.

In addition, Mr. Horne, president of Pomona Division of General Dynamics, also said that tha state had provided a support pattern for community colleges when the first such college was established in Fresno in 1910, but that support pattern too changed drastically in the intervening period.

California Chamber Wants Realignment Of School Support

The California State Chamber of Commerce, by formal action of its Board of Directors taken at the meeting held in San Francisco Friday, May 16, has called for a realignment of the support pattern of public school education which would take the burden off the local property tax payer and increase the state's participation.

Charles F. Horne, Chairman of the Chamber's Statewide Education Committee pointed out that since 1952 when the electorate approved a Constitutional Amendment to increase school aid, and as a result contributed 47.5 per cent against 49.1 per cent from local property taxes, the amount of state support has steadily decreased. During the current year the state's share will be below 36 per cent. This in spite of the fact that education is legally a state function.

In addition, Mr. Horne, president of Pomona Division of General Dynamics, also said that tha state had provided a support pattern for community colleges when the first such college was established in Fresno in 1910, but that support pattern too changed drastically in the intervening period.

conceiving at this time."

Apollo 10 slammed into the outer limits of the atmosphere 400,000 feet high at 24,694 miles an hour, was punished by forces nearly seven times the pull of gravity and was blistered by heat of more than 5,000 degrees. The crew traveled 64 mph faster than the Apollo 8 pilots on their return from the moon in December.

The craft's heat shield protected the craft from burning up and the temperature inside the cabin remained a comfortable 70 degrees.

Before hitting the atmosphere, Stafford, Young and Cernan jettisoned a service module attached to the command ship. The shedding of this equipment bay reduced Apollo 10's weight from 31,500 to about 12,000 pounds.

During the hottest, fastest part of the re-entry, radio communications from the speeding vehicle were blacked out for about three minutes.

Right after blackout ended, two recovery force planes and the Princeton reported radar contact with the spaceship.

Minutes later, the ship, dangling under its parachutes, came within view of the ship.

The thickening atmosphere braked the speed, making it possible for three small parachutes to pop out and stabilize the spacecraft. Ships and planes quickly picked up the descending ship on radar.

At 10,000 feet, the three main 83.5-foot chutes blossomed majestically and Apollo 10 floated gently downward into the Pacific at a comparative snail's pace of 22 mph.

Three hours before re-entry, the astronauts fired thrusters for 6.6 seconds to make a slight course adjustment that zeroed them in on the landing site.

Earlier, just five hours and 43,000 miles from splashdown, the astronauts beamed their final television show, transmitting a brilliant color picture of the earth looming larger by the minute.

Just five hours and 43,000 miles from splashdown, Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan pointed their television camera out the window and transmitted a brilliant color picture of the earth looming larger by the minute.

Each of the astronauts came on camera with some thoughts about the mission during which they circled the moon 2-1/4 days.

Young "The whole mission has been unbelievable . . . We've felt very strong about sharing the adventure, the challenges and rewards of these eight days with the world through television . . . We hope we've made the millions of people of the world more a part of the history that's being made in our day and age."

Surtax Change Outcome Is Arguable

By EDMOND LeBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — When House members vote next month on extending the income surtax, will they give more weight to fighting inflation or to giving a break to middle-income taxpayers?

The argument over President Nixon's fiscal program is hardening along these lines.

Those who oppose the surtax have fresh ammunition in statistics compiled for a House appropriations subcommittee by the Internal Revenue Service. This table highlights the extent to which middle-income taxpayers —those in the $8,000-to-$20,000-a-year brackets—are carrying the tax burden.

On the basis of 1967 income, these 21.5 million taxpayers, about 30 per cent of the total, paid nearly $28.8 billion—or nearly 46 per cent of all personal income tax collections.

Both administration and legislative leaders are showing signs of worry that middle-income voters' hopes have been raised too high by the tax-reform proposals now being prepared for action.

Neither the Nixon reform proposal nor the broader package taking shape in the House Ways and Means Committee room offers much, if anything, to the man in the middle.

Both would hit high-income taxpayers now using tax shelters and would completely or partially lift income tax from millions at the bottom of the scale.

The only way Congress could do something quickly for the tax-conscious group of voters in between would be to let the income surtax expire June 30, or to continue it at a lower rate or for a shorter time than Nixon recommends, or to confine it to corporations.

But to do this, the administration contends, would hurt the middle-income man — and everybody else—more than the surcharge. It argues such a step would feed inflation, cut the purchasing power of the dollar, and require monetary measures that would choke off credit for homebuyers, small businesses and state and city governments.

Nixon has proposed continuing the surcharge at 10 per cent at least until July 1, 1970. Such an extension, with the other tax measures associated with it, would produce an estimated $6.3-billion budget surplus.

Under sharp questioning, witnesses told the House Ways and Means Committee the surtax could be ended as early as Sept. 30 and still leave the budget in balance.

There is no clear indication now how the opposing arguments will appeal to the House. But there are some straws in the wind.

Individual members have introduced a spate of tax-easing bills—not with any real hope of having them enacted, but to show where they stand. A favorite theme is increase of the $600 personal exemption.

Then there is what amounts to a petition to the Ways and Means Committee by a vocal group of Democrats. They ask that the surtax not be extended for any long period until tax reform is far enough along to provide some general tax relief.

Signers now have reached 71. A check of the roll call by which the surtax originally was passed last June 20 shows that 39 of the signers voted for it then. Another 23 voted against it.

The argument over President Nixon's fiscal program is hardening along these lnes.

Those who oppose the surtax have fresh ammunition in statistics compiled for a House appropriations subcommittee by the Internal Revenue Service. This table highlights the extent to which middle-income taxpayers —those in the $8,000-to-$20,000-a-year brackets—are carrying the tax burden.

On the basis of 1967 income, these 21.5 million taxpayers, about 30 per cent of the total, paid nearly $28.8 billion—or nearly 46 per cent of all personal income tax collections.

Both administration and legislative leaders are showing signs of worry that middle-income voters' hopes have been raised too high by the tax-reform proposals now being prepared for action.

Neither the Nixon reform proposal nor the broader package taking shape in the House Ways and Means Committee room offers much, if anything, to the man in the middle.

Both would hit high-income taxpayers now using tax shelters and would completely or partially lift income tax from millions at the bottom of the scale.

The only way Congress could do something quickly for the tax-conscious group of voters in between would be to let the income surtax expire June 30, or to continue it at a lower rate or for a shorter time than Nixon recommends, or to confine it to corporations.

But to do this, the administration contends, would hurt the middle-income man — and everybody else—more than the surcharge. It argues such a step would feed inflation, cut the purchasing power of the dollar, and require monetary measures that would choke off credit for homebuyers, small businesses and state and city governments.

Nixon has proposed continuing the surcharge at 10 per cent at least until July 1, 1970. Such an extension, with the other tax measures associated with it, would produce an estimated $6.3-billion budget surplus.

Under sharp questioning, witnesses told the House Ways and Means Committee the surtax could be ended as early as Sept. 30 and still leave the budget in balance.

There is no clear indication now how the opposing arguments will appeal to the House. But there are some straws in the wind.

Individual members have introduced a spate of tax-easing bills—not with any real hope of having them enacted, but to show where they stand. A favorite theme is increase of the $600 personal exemption.

Then there is what amounts to a petition to the Ways and Means Committee by a vocal group of Democrats. They ask that the surtax not be extended for any long period until tax reform is far enough along to provide some general tax relief.

Signers now have reached 71. A check of the roll call by which the surtax originally was passed last June 20 shows that 39 of the signers voted for it then. Another 23 voted against it.

PAPYRUS BOAT LEAVES

SAFI, Morocco (AP)— "She is really riding well," Thor Heyerdahl reported as he set out for America Sunday in his papyrus boat.

His 15-ton craft made of interlocking reeds and looking like a bright yellow basket with a wine-red sail, dropped a tow line 12 miles from the North African coast and headed west-southwest for the deep-running Canary Islands current.

Was The Trip Necessary?

(From the Ontario-Upland Daily Report)

The script is familiar.

Demonstrators greet the distinguished American visitor with signs bluntly inviting him to go home. A small army of security men surrounds him and in one Central American capital, fears for his life cut short his visit.

It could be a scene from then-Vice President Nixon's celebrated Latin tour in 1958, which reached a high, or low, point with the stoning of his car in Caracas, Venezuela. Or it could be from almost any of many visits by similarly high-placed North Americans in years before and since.

These happen, however, to be incidents on New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's current fact-finding tour for President Nixon.

It is a sad commentary on American policy toward Latin America that after so many years of effort and expenditure a representative from Washington can still expect to be greeted by expressions of public hostility, deliberately organized and representing only a minority of the population as such demonstrations may often be.

But it is perhaps even sadder that Washington's repeated reaffirmations of concern for our neighbors to the south seem so often to take the same unimaginative course, a whirlwind tour by a d.A.v.

Rockefeller, to be sure, has first-class credentials for such a mission. The domestic political angles aside, his expertise dates back to the Roosevelt administration when he laid the foundations of his political career as a State Department specialist on Latin America.

He draws on a reservoir of experience matched by few other such distinguished Americans as he listens to complaints on U. S. political and economic policies, complaints that are supposed to provide guidelines for Washington's latest revision of its design for living with our chronically much poorer Latin relations.

But the question can still be asked: Is this trip necessary?

It will be surprising if Rockefeller hears anything new. It will be even more surprising if the mission results in radical changes in U. S. policy or significant progress in lifting Latin America from its economic and social morass.

It is difficult to see what significantly fresh information Rockefeller can be expected to bring back that could not be transmitted by long-established channels of communication, by U. S. embassies and the myriad special missions in Latin America.

High-level missions such as Rockefeller's may have their value as headline-grabbing gestures of American interest. But considering the opportunity for anti-American demonstrations they present, they too often run the risk of being self-defeating. And, at best, all too often they arouse hopes that cannot be fulfilled.

The script certainly needs to be changed. A moratorium for a time on distinguished American visitors might be a good place to start.

May 26, 1939

The initial survey of the Tehama county fairgrounds, in preparation for the proposed building project, was made yesterday by E. W. Hampton, state architect, and directors of the 30th District Agricultural Association. According to U. B. Tyler, chairman, tentative plans call for the erection of seven livestock sheds by January 1. Ultimately, there will be added a main exhibit building, poultry shed, corrals for feeder cattle, horseshoe pitching arena and a playground for children. The project, which will be completed within five or six years, will approximate an expenditure of nearly $50,000.

Today is Monday, May 26, the 46th day of 1969. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1868, U.S. senators seeking removal of President Andrew Johnson lost their case. The impeachment forces lost by one vote.

On this date:

In 1790, Tennessee was organized as a territory.

In 1805, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned king of Italy.

In 1864, the U.S. Congress created the Montana Territory.

In 1942, during the World War II, German forces began their drives for Stalingrad and the Caucasus.

In 1954, the funeral ship of the Egyptian Pharaoh Cheops was discovered in a limestone chamber near the Great Pyramid of Giza in Egypt.

In 1966, Britain granted independence to the South American country of Guyana.

Ten years ago: Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir said her nation was astounded that the United Nations had failed to enforce free navigation through the Suez Canal.

Five years ago: The United Arab Republic and Iraq signed a pact they said was the first step toward full Arab unity.

One year ago: The United States charged at preliminary peace talks in Paris that North Vietnamese troops had crossed the demilitarized zone to carry out an attack.

Student Letters To The Editor Contest

Dear Editor:

There has been a great deal of campus unrest at many universities about Black Studies programs. The Negroes and some white students want Black Studies courses so the Negroes can learn about their ancestors, traditions, and great men. Generally speaking the history of the Negroes is not studied or taught in American education. For example, white-oriented courses usually ignore Negroes who have contributed to American history and culture. Much can be learned about white abolitionists, but text books seldom mention David Walker, who was a Negro abolitionist and one of the first blacks to demand equality.

What Negroes want out of Black Studies courses is not unreasonable. After all what is wrong with wanting to know about the great men and the history of your race? That is what they want and there is no valid reason why the Negroes should not achieve it. Negroes have been discriminated against sufficiently; our education system should permit the teaching of black history with no reservation.

Sincerely yours,
Robby Jackson

Dear Editor:

Spring is here and with it comes marching season. The Red Bluff High School Band has taken to the streets this month; and almost every day during fourth period, the band can be seen drilling on the streets near the high school. As a member of the band, I have enjoyed our marches around the residential sections of Red Bluff, for it has given me a chance to see Red Bluff at its best. As we march down quiet, shaded streets and past clean, well-kept homes, neat lawns, and blooming flowers, I am sure that no Red Bluff resident can help felling proud of our city. That which impresses me most, however, is the people of Red Bluff. As the band marches past their homes, these people look out their doors or stand on the sidewalk to watch us pass. They watch not only with curiosity but also with great interest and perhaps a bit of pride.

This, I believe, is why Red Bluff is such a friendly city. Its people are genuinely interested in each other, the city, and its functions. This quality of friendliness and concern is a possession that we should prize.

Red Bluff has grown a great deal within the last five years. New shops, gas stations, motels, and restaurants are built each year. In larger cities, along with growth comes more hurrying, more selfish interest, less friendliness. Within a few more years, will this happen in our steadily growing city? Will we become less sympathetic, more apathetic? It need not happen. If we continue to hold a genuine interest in each other, support our civic functions, and have pride in our city, Red Bluff will retain that quality of friendly interest and concern.

Sincerely,
Candie Holmes,

Dear Editor:

Why are our courts working so hard to handcuff our police? The Supreme Court has a ruling that forces the police to recite a "presentation" to the criminal to assure him that he does not have to confess and that he will be provided a lawyer. The idea of informing the criminal of his rights is one thing, but to ignore the confession of a felon because of a technicality is insanity. There are cases on record of a woman who had confessed to killing her child yet walked out of court with a dismissal; a man who admitted murdering his wife and four children but who walked away whistling "California, Here I Come" (presumably in honor of Earl Warren).

Some of the notable decisions of our present Supreme Court favoring the criminal are Mallory vs. U. S. and Escobedo vs. Illinois. Mallory, a confessed rapist, was released because of unusual delay (ten hours) between arrest and arraignment. In Escobedo vs. Illinois, Danny Escobedo confessed he paid $500 to a friend to murder his brother-in-law, but he was not represented by counsel during the questioning. Danny went free. Miranda vs. Arizona was an extension of the Escobedo case where Ernesto Miranda was informed of his rights and confessed to kidnap and rape, but counsel was not present so he was freed. With these hurdles put in front of the policeman trying to do his job, it is not surprising that recruiting of qualified policemen is becoming an ever more difficult job.

We as interested and responsible students must show respect for established law and order. If we do not, the alternative is loss of educational opportunities through destruction of our schools. As F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover has said, "Those who enjoy the protection of America's laws have the obligation not only to respect these laws, but to assist in their enforcement." We should let our legislators know how we fell and that the courts' efforts to help the criminal should at least be balanced in favor of the citizen and the police.

Sincerely,
Curtis Wolfe

"WHAT WOULD I LIKE TO BE WHEN I GROW UP? ALIVE, PLEASE."

Dear Sir:

I feel that the closed campus rule at Red Bluff Union High School is outdated and should be changed. The rule states that during school hours no students may leave the campus without receiving written permission from the school office. I feel this rule should be altered so that students may go downtown for their lunch periods. This new rule would bring about a sense of freedom from the boredom of staying at school all day.

An open campus would have many advantages. One of these would be that students could eat their lunches anywhere and also eat whatever they wanted. They would no longer be restricted to eat in the school's cafeteria or snack bar.

A disadvantage of this policy of open campus would be the strain it would place on the cafeteria's finance. I feel this situation could be remedied by having only one lunch period per day instead of the present two.

I feel by having an open campus policy, Red Bluff High would take a giant step towards modernizing its daily routine.

Sincerely,
Tom Kucek,

New Jobs 'Of Political Interest'

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

WASHINGTON (AP)— While the Nixon administration talks about taking politics out of the Post Office, more and more jobs are being created in other departments that could be used for patronage.

In the past month, the Agriculture Department has gotten authority to create 20 new positions in the Farmers Home Administration.

A department official said frankly the jobs are of "political interest."

"We wanted them available but we don't have any plans right now to fill them," he said.

Most other Cabinet members have asked for and received Civil Service Commission authority to create new jobs with fat paychecks that can be filled at the secretary's whim.

Although they could be used for patronage there is no indication of any plans now to use more than a handful as a political device.

The jobs in question fall under two categories known as Schedule C and Noncareer Executive Assignments or NEA.

NEA posts cover the so-called supergrades in the General Schedule or GS scale and carry salaries between $20,000 and $30,000. Schedule C covers the GS15 level — $19,780 — and down.

Besides presidential appointments, the two categories are the main avenue for hiring and firing at will, skirting civil service rules that protect most other government employes.

The Housing and Urban Development said its NEA and Schedule C positions have increased from 86 to 95 and it wants six more.

Health, Education and Welfare had 84 positions, now has 95 and is asking for more but won't say how many.

Transportation, which got authority to create five new jobs, was the only other agency querried that declined to say how many more it was seeking.

The Justice Department had 53 positions before inauguration, now has 60 and wants another.

These figures appear to be the firmest, but presumably because of their political nature the number of Schedule C jobs at any given time in any given department may depend on who's counting.

The Pentagon, for instance, reported to the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee last September that it had 75 Schedule C jobs in the office of the secretary of defense and others scattered in the branches of the service.

It reports no change now in any but the Navy which shows an increase from 14 in the report to Congress to 23 now. It also says the Air Force wants five more positions that would bring it even with the Navy.

The Civil Service Commission, however, says it has 86 Schedule C positions listed for the office of the secretary of defense and that the Navy had increased six, not nine.

Although numerically small, the increase in potential patronage positions is occurring at the same time the administration is trying to end the age-old tradition of handing out postmasterships as political plums.

Under a bill now before Congress, the postmaster general would select postmaster candidates from the recommendations of review boards with merit and ability the only criteria.

The slow but steady increase in available political jobs comes to light — perhaps coincidentally — as President Nixon reportedly is being urged by advisers to pay more attention to party politics.

There also has been grumbling among some Republican congressmen that there are too many Democratic holdovers, that not enough jobs are going to Republicans and that when they do the most deserving congressional Republicans are not being consulted.

An indication that more attention will be paid to the political area came several days ago with reports that Nixon had changed top political troubleshooters.

The 29-year-old John Sears, a former Nixon legal colleague, who had been the top White House man for political affairs, reportedly was demoted and replaced by Harry Dent.

Dent is a former South Carolina Republican state chairman and a former aide to that state's Republican senator, Strom Thurmond.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My sister, who is the mother of three darling children, has been acting awfully goofy of late. Ruth talks a lot more than she used to and much of her conversation makes no sense. Her husband told me in confidence that Ruth has been going to two doctors and neither one knows about the other. I'm beginning to put the pieces together since he mentioned his concern about the number of pills she takes.

I strongly suspect Ruth is getting some sort of "prescription only" drug from both doctors and that she is hopped up from too much stuff. Can this be dangerous? What should be done about it?

— Mrs. No Name

Dear Mrs.: This can be dangerous. Like very. Also foolish. Your sister isn't hurting the doctors but she is jeopardizing her health and maybe her life. Ruth's husband should telephone each doctor and inform him of the other. And I hope you will urge him to do so at once. It could be a matter of life and death.

Dear Ann Landers: Last week our 3-year-old son got the mumps. The first thing the doctor asked was, "Has your husband had the mumps?" I asked Bennie and he couldn't remember so I called my mother-in-law. She said, "How am I supposed to know what happened 30 years ago? Two of my boys had mumps, but I don't know if it was Bennie and Louie or Louie and Izzy."

I called Louie. He said he had the mumps and he thought Bennie had them too, but he wasn't positive. So, the doctor gave my husband a shot. He was sick as a dog for a half a day.

Yesterday Izzy called to say he heard Bennie was sick from a mumps shot and asked, "Why did he take it? Bennie had the mumps when I did."

Please tell mothers everywhere that they can save their kids a lot of trouble by keeping a record of who had what. Thank you.

— Zy Gezundt

Dear Zy: Right you are. But don't be too hard on your mother-in-law. Better for Bennie that he took a shot he didn't need than to have needed a shot he didn't take.

Dear Ann: Does the local newspaper office open the letters to you and then send them all together in a large envelope? Or do you receive the letters unopened? I guess what I really want to know is this: Do the people who work in the newspaper office, of say the Arkansas Gazette, see the Ann Landers mail before you do?

— Needing Anonymity

Dear Needing: All mail addressed to Ann Landers is forwarded to me unopened. It is a federal offense to intentionally open a letter addressed to another party.

Confidential to Is The Time Now?: In my opinion — no. It is a wise person who knows when to seize an opportunity. It is a wiser one still who knows when to forego an advantage.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Eight More For The Government

This year the average American is working eight minutes more a day for the government than he was in 1968. Federal, state and local government, that is.

That much more work is needed to cover taxes this year. It brings the total earning time spent for various levies up to two hours and 34 minutes out of an eight hour day. In 1966, the total was two hours, 19 minutes.

According to the Tax Foundation, the breakdown of daily earning time is this: one hour, 47 minutes for federal taxes, 47 minutes for state and local. It all totals about 12 hours, 48 minutes a week to pay federal, state and local taxes, on the basis of a 40-hour week, or about 117 working days a year, on the average.

Functional Heart Murmurs

MY NEWBORN baby was born with a heart murmur and we are terribly upset because there was nothing unusual about this, my third, pregnancy. We have been told that this is a functional, rather than organic, murmur. Nevertheless, we wonder whether it will affect our boy's life as he grows older and possibly make him an invalid.

Mr. & Mrs. C. Z., Tennessee

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Z.: Let me immediately put to rest any feeling of guilt you may have about anything you did or did not do during pregnancy. These functional murmurs frequently occur without any abnormality in the heart muscles or in the valves that separate the four chambers of the heart. This is the distinction between a functional and an organic murmur which is based on some structural abnormality. Modern surgery can now brilliantly correct most of the simple and many of the very complex heart abnormalities that are organic.

I am quite certain that your anxiety prevented you from really "hearing" the assurance your own doctor undoubtedly gave to you. The result is that you are magnifying the importance of this murmur and unless your fear is checked, you will reflect this anxiety on your boy as he gets older. This must be avoided. Children with functional murmurs are not handicapped in any way and can take part in the most active sports without any limitation. Unless you completely understand this, you will find yourself imposing limits on him and converting a perfectly normal, healthy child into a potential physical and emotional invalid. Many children born with a murmur of this kind lose it after a few years and grow into adulthood with the normal expected longevity.

Surgery for fibroid tumors of my womb has been suggested. I cannot get my doctor to say definitely how extensive the operation will be. He does not know whether the total removal of the womb will be necessary. At my age of 35, this causes me great concern.

Mrs. M. E., Maryland

Dear Mrs. E.: Surgery that removes the womb (uterus) at any age is a source of concern. When one is in the child-bearing period, it is especially distressing if one still hopes to enlarge her family.

Fibroid tumors are benign, non-cancerous growths which grow on the surface, in the wall and on the inner lining of the womb. Their size varies from tiny ones to apple-sized and large melon-sized ones. In many cases, surgeons can tell by their size and the pressure exerted by these tumors, the exact extent of the surgery. In your case, as in many similar ones, the surgeon must base his choice of operation and extent of surgery on his findings when once he opens the lower abdomen. You must have complete faith that his past experience and judgment aims at your good health and the preservation of the womb whenever it is possible.

Was The Trip Necessary?

(From the Ontario-Upland Daily Report)

The script is familiar.

Demonstrators greet the distinguished American visitor with signs bluntly inviting him to go home. A small army of security men surrounds him and in one Central American capital, fears for his life cut short his visit.

It could be a scene from then-Vice President Nixon's celebrated Latin tour in 1958, which reached a high, or low, point with the stoning of his car in Caracas, Venezuela. Or it could be from almost any of many visits by similarly high-placed North Americans in years before and since.

These happen, however, to be incidents on New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's current fact-finding tour for President Nixon.

It is a sad commentary on American policy toward Latin America that after so many years of effort and expenditure a representative from Washington can still expect to be greeted by expressions of public hostility, deliberately organized and representing only a minority of the population as such demonstrations may often be.

But it is perhaps even sadder that Washington's repeated reaffirmations of concern for our neighbors to the south seem so often to take the same unimaginative course, a whirlwind tour by a d.A.v.

Rockefeller, to be sure, has first-class credentials for such a mission. The domestic political angles aside, his expertise dates back to the Roosevelt administration when he laid the foundations of his political career as a State Department specialist on Latin America.

He draws on a reservoir of experience matched by few other such distinguished Americans as he listens to complaints on U. S. political and economic policies, complaints that are supposed to provide guidelines for Washington's latest revision of its design for living with our chronically much poorer Latin relations.

But the question can still be asked: Is this trip necessary?

It will be surprising if Rockefeller hears anything new. It will be even more surprising if the mission results in radical changes in U. S. policy or significant progress in lifting Latin America from its economic and social morass.

It is difficult to see what significantly fresh information Rockefeller can be expected to bring back that could not be transmitted by long-established channels of communication, by U. S. embassies and the myriad special missions in Latin America.

High-level missions such as Rockefeller's may have their value as headline-grabbing gestures of American interest. But considering the opportunity for anti-American demonstrations they present, they too often run the risk of being self-defeating. And, at best, all too often they arouse hopes that cannot be fulfilled.

The script certainly needs to be changed. A moratorium for a time on distinguished American visitors might be a good place to start.

May 26, 1939

The initial survey of the Tehama county fairgrounds, in preparation for the proposed building project, was made yesterday by E. W. Hampton, state architect, and directors of the 30th District Agricultural Association. According to U. B. Tyler, chairman, tentative plans call for the erection of seven livestock sheds by January 1. Ultimately, there will be added a main exhibit building, poultry shed, corrals for feeder cattle, horseshoe pitching arena and a playground for children. The project, which will be completed within five or six years, will approximate an expenditure of nearly $50,000.

Today is Monday, May 26, the 46th day of 1969. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1868, U.S. senators seeking removal of President Andrew Johnson lost their case. The impeachment forces lost by one vote.

On this date:

In 1790, Tennessee was organized as a territory.

In 1805, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned king of Italy.

In 1864, the U.S. Congress created the Montana Territory.

In 1942, during the World War II, German forces began their drives for Stalingrad and the Caucasus.

In 1954, the funeral ship of the Egyptian Pharaoh Cheops was discovered in a limestone chamber near the Great Pyramid of Giza in Egypt.

In 1966, Britain granted independence to the South American country of Guyana.

Ten years ago: Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir said her nation was astounded that the United Nations had failed to enforce free navigation through the Suez Canal.

One year ago: The United States charged at preliminary peace talks in Paris that North Vietnamese troops had crossed the demilitarized zone to carry out an attack.

Student Letters To The Editor Contest

Dear Editor:

There has been a great deal of campus unrest at many universities about Black Studies programs. The Negroes and some white students want Black Studies courses so the Negroes can learn about their ancestors, traditions, and great men. Generally speaking the history of the Negroes is not studied or taught in American education. For example, white-oriented courses usually ignore Negroes who have contributed to American history and culture. Much can be learned about white abolitionists, but text books seldom mention David Walker, who was a Negro abolitionist and one of the first blacks to demand equality.

What Negroes want out of Black Studies courses is not unreasonable. After all what is wrong with wanting to know about the great men and the history of your race? That is what they want and there is no valid reason why the Negroes should not achieve it. Negroes have been discriminated against sufficiently; our education system should permit the teaching of black history with no reservation.

Sincerely yours,
Robby Jackson

Dear Editor:

Spring is here and with it comes marching season. The Red Bluff High School Band has taken to the streets this month; and almost every day during fourth period, the band can be seen drilling on the streets near the high school. As a member of the band, I have enjoyed our marches around the residential sections of Red Bluff, for it has given me a chance to see Red Bluff at its best. As we march down quiet, shaded streets and past clean, well-kept homes, neat lawns, and blooming flowers, I am sure that no Red Bluff resident can help felling proud of our city. That which impresses me most, however, is the people of Red Bluff. As the band marches past their homes, these people look out their doors or stand on the sidewalk to watch us pass. They watch not only with curiosity but also with great interest and perhaps a bit of pride.

This, I believe, is why Red Bluff is such a friendly city. Its people are genuinely interested in each other, the city, and its functions. This quality of friendliness and concern is a possession that we should prize.

Red Bluff has grown a great deal within the last five years. New shops, gas stations, motels, and restaurants are built each year. In larger cities, along with growth comes more hurrying, more selfish interest, less friendliness. Within a few more years, will this happen in our steadily growing city? Will we become less sympathetic, more apathetic? It need not happen. If we continue to hold a genuine interest in each other, support our civic functions, and have pride in our city, Red Bluff will retain that quality of friendly interest and concern.

Sincerely,
Candie Holmes,

Dear Editor:

Why are our courts working so hard to handcuff our police? The Supreme Court has a ruling that forces the police to recite a "presentation" to the criminal to assure him that he does not have to confess and that he will be provided a lawyer. The idea of informing the criminal of his rights is one thing, but to ignore the confession of a felon because of a technicality is insanity. There are cases on record of a woman who had confessed to killing her child yet walked out of court with a dismissal; a man who admitted murdering his wife and four children but who walked away whistling "California, Here I Come" (presumably in honor of Earl Warren).

Some of the notable decisions of our present Supreme Court favoring the criminal are Mallory vs. U. S. and Escobedo vs. Illinois. Mallory, a confessed rapist, was released because of unusual delay (ten hours) between arrest and arraignment. In Escobedo vs. Illinois, Danny Escobedo confessed he paid $500 to a friend to murder his brother-in-law, but he was not represented by counsel during the questioning. Danny went free. Miranda vs. Arizona was an extension of the Escobedo case where Ernesto Miranda was informed of his rights and confessed to kidnap and rape, but counsel was not present so he was freed. With these hurdles put in front of the policeman trying to do his job, it is not surprising that recruiting of qualified policemen is becoming an ever more difficult job.

We as interested and responsible students must show respect for established law and order. If we do not, the alternative is loss of educational opportunities through destruction of our schools. As F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover has said, "Those who enjoy the protection of America's laws have the obligation not only to respect these laws, but to assist in their enforcement." We should let our legislators know how we fell and that the courts' efforts to help the criminal should at least be balanced in favor of the citizen and the police.

Sincerely,
Curtis Wolfe

"WHAT WOULD I LIKE TO BE WHEN I GROW UP? ALIVE, PLEASE."

Dear Sir:

I feel that the closed campus rule at Red Bluff Union High School is outdated and should be changed. The rule states that during school hours no students may leave the campus without receiving written permission from the school office. I feel this rule should be altered so that students may go downtown for their lunch periods. This new rule would bring about a sense of freedom from the boredom of staying at school all day.

An open campus would have many advantages. One of these would be that students could eat their lunches anywhere and also eat whatever they wanted. They would no longer be restricted to eat in the school's cafeteria or snack bar.

A disadvantage of this policy of open campus would be the strain it would place on the cafeteria's finance. I feel this situation could be remedied by having only one lunch period per day instead of the present two.

I feel by having an open campus policy, Red Bluff High would take a giant step towards modernizing its daily routine.

Sincerely,
Tom Kucek,

New Jobs 'Of Political Interest'

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

WASHINGTON (AP)— While the Nixon administration talks about taking politics out of the Post Office, more and more jobs are being created in other departments that could be used for patronage.

In the past month, the Agriculture Department has gotten authority to create 20 new positions in the Farmers Home Administration.

A department official said frankly the jobs are of "political interest."

"We wanted them available but we don't have any plans right now to fill them," he said.

Most other Cabinet members have asked for and received Civil Service Commission authority to create new jobs with fat paychecks that can be filled at the secretary's whim.

Although they could be used for patronage there is no indication of any plans now to use more than a handful as a political device.

The jobs in question fall under two categories known as Schedule C and Noncareer Executive Assignments or NEA.

NEA posts cover the so-called supergrades in the General Schedule or GS scale and carry salaries between $20,000 and $30,000. Schedule C covers the GS15 level — $19,780 — and down.

Besides presidential appointments, the two categories are the main avenue for hiring and firing at will, skirting civil service rules that protect most other government employes.

The Housing and Urban Development said its NEA and Schedule C positions have increased from 86 to 95 and it wants six more.

Health, Education and Welfare had 84 positions, now has 95 and is asking for more but won't say how many.

Transportation, which got authority to create five new jobs, was the only other agency querried that declined to say how many more it was seeking.

The Justice Department had 53 positions before inauguration, now has 60 and wants another.

These figures appear to be the firmest, but presumably because of their political nature the number of Schedule C jobs at any given time in any given department may depend on who's counting.

The Pentagon, for instance, reported to the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee last September that it had 75 Schedule C jobs in the office of the secretary of defense and others scattered in the branches of the service.

It reports no change now in any but the Navy which shows an increase from 14 in the report to Congress to 23 now. It also says the Air Force wants five more positions that would bring it even with the Navy.

The Civil Service Commission, however, says it has 86 Schedule C positions listed for the office of the secretary of defense and that the Navy had increased six, not nine.

Although numerically small, the increase in potential patronage positions is occurring at the same time the administration is trying to end the age-old tradition of handing out postmasterships as political plums.

Under a bill now before Congress, the postmaster general would select postmaster candidates from the recommendations of review boards with merit and ability the only criteria.

The slow but steady increase in available political jobs comes to light — perhaps coincidentally — as President Nixon reportedly is being urged by advisers to pay more attention to party politics.

There also has been grumbling among some Republican congressmen that there are too many Democtatic holdovers, that not enough jobs are going to Republicans and that when they do the most deserving congressional Republicans are not being consulted.

An indication that more attention will be paid to the political area came several days ago with reports that Nixon had changed top political troubleshooters.

The 29-year-old John Sears, a former Nixon legal colleague, who had been the top White House man for political affairs, reportedly was demoted and replaced by Harry Dent.

Dent is a former South Carolina Republican state chairman and a former aide to that state's Republican senator, Strom Thurmond.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My sister, who is the mother of three darling children, has been acting awfully goofy of late. Ruth talks a lot more than she used to and much of her conversation makes no sense. Her husband told me in confidence that Ruth has been going to two doctors and neither one knows about the other. I'm beginning to put the pieces together since he mentioned his concern about the number of pills she takes.

I strongly suspect Ruth is getting some sort of "prescription only" drug from both doctors and that she is hopped up from too much stuff. Can this be dangerous? What should be done about it?

— Mrs. No Name

Dear Mrs.: This can be dangerous. Like very. Also foolish. Your sister isn't hurting the doctors but she is jeopardizing her health and maybe her life. Ruth's husband should telephone each doctor and inform him of the other. And I hope you will urge him to do so at once. It could be a matter of life and death.

Dear Ann Landers: Last week our 3-year-old son got the mumps. The first thing the doctor asked was, "Has your husband had the mumps?" I asked Bennie and he couldn't remember so I called my mother-in-law. She said, "How am I supposed to know what happened 30 years ago? Two of my boys had mumps, but I don't know if it was Bennie and Louie or Louie and Izzy."

I called Louie, He said he had the mumps and he thought Bennie had them too, but he wasn't positive. So, the doctor gave my husband a shot. He was sick as a dog for a half a day.

Yesterday Izzy called to say he heard Bennie was sick from a mumps shot and asked, "Why did he take it? Bennie had the mumps when I did."

Please tell mothers everywhere that they can save their kids a lot of trouble by keeping a record of who had what. Thank you.

— Zy Gezundt

Dear Zy: Right you are. But don't be too hard on your mother-in-law. Better for Bennie that he took a shot he didn't need than to have needed a shot he didn't take.

Dear Ann: Does the local newspaper office open the letters to you and then send them all together in a large envelope? Or do you receive the letters unopened? I guess what I really want to know is this: Do the people who work in the newspaper office, of say the Arkansas Gazette, see the Ann Landers mail before you do?

— Needing Anonymity

Dear Needing: All mail addressed to Ann Landers is forwarded to me unopened. It is a federal offense to intentionally open a letter addressed to another party.

Confidential to Is The Time Now?: In my opinion — no. It is a wise person who knows when to seize an opportunity. It is a wiser one still who knows when to forego an advantage.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Eight More For The Government

This year the average American is working eight minutes more a day for the government than he was in 1968. Federal, state and local government, that is.

That much more work is needed to cover taxes this year. It brings the total earning time spent for various levies up to two hours and 34 minutes out of an eight hour day. In 1966, the total was two hours, 19 minutes.

According to the Tax Foundation, the breakdown of daily earning time is this: one hour 47 minutes for federal taxes, 47 minutes for state and local. It all totals about 12 hours 48 minutes a week to pay federal, state and local taxes on the basis of a 40-hour week or about 117 working days a year, on the average.
